FAA Visits Embassy—Koror and Briefs Ambassador Reed-Rowe

FAA Micronesia Program Manager Barry Bayer and FAA Honolulu Airports District Office Manager Ron Simpson briefed U.S. Ambassador Helen Reed-Rowe at the US Embassy Koror during their recent visit. Their trip to Palau resulted in a tabletop planning meeting with Palau Emergency Responding Agencies and first responders to prepare for the Airport Emergency Operations Training scheduled by March 2012, a follow-up meeting with Palau Ministry of Health and the Palau Hospital representatives to discuss the strategy and capability to deploy portable medical facilities, a status update meeting on AIP Projects and tour Construction Sites, inspections of ARFF building, vehicles and all emergency equipment pursuant to Advisory Circular guidance, a review of the Airport Self Inspection Program, training curriculum and daily inspection records, with guidance as needed, and a review of the Airport Certification Manual, Airport Emergency Plan, Wildlife Hazard Management Plan and Water Rescue Plan. The Ambassador thanked them for executing such an ambitious program during their visit and for their continued support.
